DIPLÔME NATIONAL DE MASTER CONTRÔLÉ PAR L'ÉTAT

Master Langues et sociétés
Euroculture

Présentation

Les parcours rassemblés dans la mention « Langues et sociétés » visent à former des diplômés qui seront en mesure de dégager, d'analyser et de traiter une problématique dans des champs professionnels divers touchant au domaine de l'interculturalité. La maîtrise avancée d'une ou plusieurs langues étrangères constitue un aspect commun fondamental pour l'ensemble des parcours. L'apprentissage des langues est conçu en fonction d'un objectif premier d'employabilité en contexte professionnel.

Les Masters Langues et sociétés se caractérisent, dans l'ensemble, par des liens très forts avec le monde socio-économique. Le raisonnement pédagogique part des compétences visées pour arriver à la conception du programme.

La logique de l'ensemble des parcours de la mention se traduit par différentes compétences visées communes :

- Travailler et communiquer à l'écrit et à l'oral en français et dans plusieurs langues (langues à grande et à moindre diffusion) dans des contextes variés ;
- Conceptualiser, poser une problématique, développer une argumentation et une pensée critique ;
- Savoir identifier et analyser des situations de contact, d'échanges et de transferts culturels et linguistiques ;
- Mettre en œuvre la méthodologie de la recherche documentaire ; comprendre et analyser les problématiques culturelles, sociétales et politiques en adoptant une démarche pluridisciplinaire ;
- Maîtriser les nouvelles technologies de l'information et de la communication multilingue de manière stratégique.

À ces compétences communes s'ajoutent pour chaque parcours des compétences spécifiques et clairement identifiées visant des compétences techniques et hautement professionnalisantes telles que, à titre d'exemple, savoir créer et animer des sites web multilingue ou savoir gérer un projet dans le domaine de la communication.

The main objectives of the programme are:

- To give students a broad understanding of the functioning of European integra tion and an in-depth knowledge of the aspects of European integration that constitute the specialisms of their chosen universities.
- To teach students the research skills necessary to further their knowledge and carry out exercises of reflection and analysis.
- To equip students with the communication and intercultural skills necessary for working in an international environment
- To introduce students to professionals working in various fields of European integration so as to allow for a transfer of expertise and professional competences.
- To encourage students to construct a network of contacts of their own that will serve as a valuable asset in their professional careers.

For the 2025-2027 Tuition Fees, please refer to this text and not the text below:

The Euroculture Consortium offers a Joint Master Degree programme. Because of higher organizational costs as well as the additional services offered compared to regular Master programmes, Euroculture's tuition fee rate might be different from other programmes seen at your university of choice. However, Euroculture's tuition fee rate is still highly competitive compared to other similar prestigious European Master programmes, and your overall costs can be reduced through various funding schemes, such as the tuition fee waiver and Erasmus+ mobility grants . The following is always included in the tuition fees for Euroculture:

Required literature, accommodation, travel costs and fieldwork-related costs are NOT included in the above-mentioned tuition fees. Health insurance offered by the consortium is obligatory for students outside of the EU/EEA. For EU/EEA student with a European Health Insurance Card, the AON Insurance Package is not necessary. In case of questions, send an email to euroculture@rug.nl.

The Euroculture programme distinguishes two types of students, each with a different level of participation costs for the 2-year programme:

- students who do hold a passport from one of the European Union or EEA countries
- students who do not hold a passport from one of the European Union or EEA countries
- Erasmus Mundus scholarship holders (EU/EEA or otherwise) do not need to transfer tuition fees to the programme directly. For scholarship holders, the relevant tuition fee amount is already included in the grant amount, and will be subtracted automatically from their total scholarship.

EU/EEA passport holders:

- €1575 per semester with the standard Consortium Waiver (€6300 for the entire programme)
- €2000 per semester without the standard Consortium Waiver (€8000 for the entire programme)
- European nationals may opt for a two-year AON ICS Complete Health Insurance Policy of €1000, which can be included in their fees.

The Consortium Waiver reduces the overall applicable tuition fee by €1700. This waiver is automatically applied for all EU/EEA students, with the exception of those applicants receiving a full scholarship covering living costs from sources other than the Erasmus Mundus Scholarship.

Non-EU/EEA passport holders:

- €4500 per semester, including AON ICS Complete Health Insurance (€18.000 for the entire programme).

AON insurance is always included for non-EU/EEA applicants. Non-EU/EEA applicants may not apply for the Consortium Waiver.
